More Evidence against Park!

Last week we gave an article from the of one G. S. Park against some of the citizens of Parkville, and other places. We were furnished with a proof-sheet before the article was concluded, and therefore did not give it entire. Below will be found a certificate, omitted last week, that speaks for itself. Let the timid men of Platte county see what a viper they have been nursing!

Personally appeared before me, Wm. H. Summers, within and for Platte county, Missouri, John N. L. Talbott, who states whipped. I looked around and saw him coming down the street. I recognised him when I was some four or five, feet from whipped in Harrison county, Texas. He the fidelity of this rat rendereth a lesson." was tracked into the swamps, some five or six miles from Marshall, by dogs. He was then brought back to Marshall, and there tried by the citizens and condemned to be publicly whipped for having stolen or decaved off the negroes in Texas. Geo. S. Park, the man whom I saw in Parkville, I feel well assured, is identical with the individual who was publicly whipped in Texas.

JOHN N. L. TALBOTT. Subscribed and sworn to, before me, this

Sth day of June, 1855. WM. H. SUMMERS, J. P. State, can now decide with all the evidence before them, as to whether our citizens did right in expelling from our midst the indi-forth this letter.

We are pleased to hear of the prosperity of this place. It is beautifully situated on the Missouri river, a short distance from the Delaware permanent reserve. The trade of the Delaware nation must inevitably centre there. This, of itself, will insure a large and profitable business. The Missouri side, from Weston to Parkville, can have no town to interfere with ithence the large trade of that wealthy section must centre in Delaware.

We know the preprietors—they are men of wealth, enterprise and honor; men who will give character to the place. Our old friends, Christison & Baker, are now doing a large and profitable business in merchanhave abundant success. A fine hotel will soon be finished; a steam mill is now belag erected, and buildings are being put up as fast as lumber can be obtained .-Learenworth will soon have "to take a Rollins Repudiated in Boone.

We call attention to a communication in this paper, from a correspondent, giving a description of the Kansas meeting, in Boone co., on Saturday last. It was one of the richest things we have seen. We ask a perusal of the article; it comes from a gentleman who was present on the occasion, and whose statements we will endorse.

We have all the time charged Rollins with siding with the free-soilers. Whether such are his real sentiments, or whether he adopts them through policy—in order to secure his election to the Senate-we do not know, though we incline to the latter opinion. If this be so, it is no palliation; in fact, he is more reprehensible.

Like the man who fired the temple of Ephesus, that his name might live forever, Rollins is willing to go over to the enemy and apply the torch to our civil structure in order to secure the honor of a seat in the Senate. May this object of his ambition never be realized, and may his name hereafter be found in the same catalogue of political traitors, with those of Van Buren

As for Switzler and the small co-operating faction, poor fellows! we pity them .-They have no will of their own, but must rigidly confine themselves to working out the plans of their Grand Master, Jas. S.

It will be seen from the communication, that Boone has set the scal of disapproba-tion upon-Rollins and his crew. We knew she would do so; but were surprised, that she delayed in applying the brand so long We congratulate her upon the result. Rol-lins kicked and scratched and used every effort to escape the burning, but it was no use; Old Boone had resolved, and she was not to be thwarted. It was a duty she owed to herself, and the South. She heated the iron to a cherry red and applied it to Rollins and his gang. The characters stand out in bold relief, are ineffacible and read: "Traitors to the South."

The above extract is taken from the Brunswicker, one of the staunchest whig Journals in Missouri. We are glad to see so many whig papers taking sides with the "South and her institutions." Their services are all needed to defeat the designs of our enemies abroad, and expose the conduct of traitors at home. We have looked upon Rollins of Boone county, as the head and front of Free Soilism in Missouri; a co-operator with Benton, Blair & Co., and a dangerous citizen! We join Southern Democrat, answering the charges with the Brunswicker in congratulating "Old Boone" for having "set the seal of disapprobation upon Rollins and his free soil crew." May all such men be marked, whether professed Whigs or Democrats.

CAPITAL RAT STORY,-Rev. Walter Colton, in his agreeable and Christianlike diary of a voyage to California in a man-of-war, entitled "Dock and Port," relates the following capital story:-"I have always felt some regard for a rat since my cruise in the Constellation. I then told them I had seen a evening we discovered two rats on the plank man whipped in Harrison county, Texas, coming into the ship. The toremest was for stealing negroes. I was then requested leading the other by a straw, one end of to describe said Park, which I did, and which each held in his mouth. We man-G. S. Park.
